If you purchase prescriptions through other pharmacies, please be aware of these risks:

- The drug manufacturer may not guarantee the medications.
- Some medications may be foreign drugs that may not have the same quality and purity.
- Some medications may be imitations of approved drugs (counterfeit products).
- Selling prescriptions directly to consumers without a veterinarian-client-patient relationship may pose health risks to patients and is against the law.
- These companies do not monitor health status, weight, dosing, or refills. They fill prescriptions blindly without medical knowledge of your pet.
- These companies will not be available if your animal has a reaction or problem.
